Our programs are outlined by training method,

Instructor Led Training - This type of training is facilitated by an instructor which allows for learners to interact and discuss the training material, either individually or in a group setting.

Self-paced Training – This type of training is an online learning tutorial designed for the learner to proceed at their own pace.

Guides - Resources designed to support the Solution, which include, Get Started Guides, Educational Briefs and Quick References.

The Anti-Money Laundering Solutions training program provides you with the training you need to leverage your investment in LexisNexis® Anti-Money Laundering Solutions ("AML"). The AML training clarifies search functionality and leverage best practices in an effort to enhance your search techniques. The training is geared towards initial and advanced AML users who are seeking ways to improve their use of the AML solution.
